Laboratoire des Matériaux Polymères Avancés

Organizes

BEJAIA October 2024
14 – 15

1st call for papers

Objectives

The modern world is characterized by the wide use of plastics due to their versatility. However, they are mostly produced using intermediates derived from hydrocarbons. The huge amount of plastics in landfills and nature causes a pollution catastrophe that recycling alone can't solve. To achieve circularity for today's plastics and to move to tomorrow's recyclable-by-design plastics, new solutions based on utilizing creative recycling techniques and bio-based materials along with the redesign of the current industries are urgently needed.

After the two previous editions of 'Study Days on Polymer Materials (JEMP) held in 2013 and 2018, the Laboratoire des Matériaux Polymères Avancés (LMPA) organizes with the collaboration of the Faculty of Technology, the third edition of 'JEMP2024' in October, 14-15, 2024 in the campus of Targa-Ouzemmour.

JEMP 2024, will focus on plastics recycling, plastic waste management, innovation in petro-chemistry and refinery technologies, and development of biobased and biodegradable polymer materials. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn from industry and academic experts, participate in engaging discussions and network with people who are committed to creating a more sustainable future.

Program

The program contains 02 plenary conferences, 04 key lectures besides oral and poster presentations. Exhibition stands are also made available.
